Chant Resources for Misal Romano, Tercera Edición

USCCB: Last year, in order to support priests and musicians in the use of the new chants, the USCCB Secretariat of Divine Worship prepared a webpage that makes the chants available as free PDF downloads, in the same manner as the English Roman Missal chants on the website of the International Commission on English in the Liturgy. Nearly all of chants from the Misal Romano are now available.

The Misal Romano chant webpage also includes accompaniments for the Order of Mass and certain major feasts. These can be a helpful support for the singing of the choir and the congregation. In addition to keyboard accompaniment, this accompaniment to the Spanish chants includes guitar chords, providing both traditional chord notation (lead sheet notation) and also solfeggio notation. Thus, even using a variety of instrumentation, these resources will support the use of traditional chant melodies at Mass.

OCP: “Chants of the Misal Romano” - OCP is on the process of recording the various chants from the Misal and posting them to their website. Currently the Order of Mass is available, as well as a handful of Prefaces and items from the Proper of Saints. New recordings are being uploaded about twice a month. These recordings can be helpful if you learn music better by ear, are not a music reader, or want to follow along with the PDFs provided by the USCCB site above.

With the increase of chants available in the new Misal, this is a great opportunity to increase the amount of singing done by the priest, deacon and assembly. Please circulate the resources above to those who help with the music at Masses in Spanish, and take a look at them yourself to see what you can do.
